TWENTIETH STREET HILL DEE SCHOOL
PUPILS SAY IN LETTERS TO MAYOR

Students of the Dee school have written a number of letters to Mayor Francis expressing their thanks for the coasting permit closing Twentieth street hill.

Mayor Francis closed the street to traffic last week and had cinders placed at the foot of the hill in order that accidents with automobiles, street cars and other vehicles would not take place.

Letters have been received by Mayor Francis from the following students of the Dee school: Alecia Lindsay, Herbert Jacobsen, Makine Folkman, Wilmer Rasmussen, Oden Young, Lucile Lyndham, Margaret Wood, Margaret Wood, Arthur Skelley, Sybil Rose, Vera Reeve, Teddy Wetherpoon, Gollie Brian, Gladys Cowles, Gertrude Fish, Irene Farris, Fern Parry, Hubert Parry.

Harian Peterson, Dee Draney, Parry Nelson, Claude Cottle, Mary Addison, Bernice Stratford, Byron Volkman, Elmer Miller, Tom Jenkins, Ida

Addison, Margaret De Groot, Marguerite Richardson, Rhea Beckett, Louis Passer, Mary Snyder, Leonard Stiller, Donald Witten, Wanda Cottle, and Ermand Coffin.

In a letter to Mayor Francis, Lucile Lyndham says:

"We appreciate your kindness in letting us have Twentieth street hill to slide on. It is lots of fun if you don't have a spill. We go sleigh riding every recess. Some of the teachers go down on the scooters. Miss Fitzgerald goes down too with the other teachers, but our teacher won't go down."

Wilmer Rasmussen in his letter to Mayor Francis says:

"We all appreciate what you have done for us, by giving us the 20th street hill to sleigh on."

"I am sending you this letter because I want to let you know that we all enjoy the slides we have had. I hope the snow will stay on longer, because it is so much fun."

SCHOOLS ARE URGED TO SERVICES FOR MISS

INCULCATE IDEAS
OF THRIFT

In a letter to Supt. Karl Hopkins of the Ogden school system, G. N. Child, state superintendent of schools, urges the co-operation of all schools during Thrift week in the schools of the state. The letter follows:

The United States government has designated January 17 to 24 as Thrift Week, and calls upon all our schools to observe the week with appropriate exercises and special instruction in thrift. January 17 is Benjamin Franklin's birthday, and our government invites us to observe this day, stressing the fact that despite all of Franklin's accomplishments, his popular fame rests on his practice and advocacy of thrift. Today, two hundred years later, America, of which he was one of the founders, has adopted his philosophy.

Hearty Response.—All school officers and teachers in Utah will, I am sure, respond heartily to the request of the government and take advantage of this opportunity to emphasize thrift instruction during the time set apart. Since January 17th is Saturday, it will be necessary to have special exercises on some other day during Thrift Week. The government has compiled, in booklet form, some helpful suggestions for Thrift Day programs. Copies of the booklet have been sent to you.

You will recall that our thrift program for the year provides for a mid-year report of thrift stamp purchases. Please report immediately to this office the total thrift stamp investments by your pupils and teachers from July 1 to December 31, 1919. It is very necessary that your report be received by January 20, on account of the fact that Mr. C. A. Farnsworth, associate director of the war loan organization for the Twelfth district, will be here on January 21st to receive our reports and confer with us regarding our future work.

The state committee on thrift education, consisting of Supt. G. N. Child, Dr. E. G. Gowan, Supt. E. A. Smith, Supt. D. C. Jensen, Prof. E. E. Erickson, and Supt. L. J. Nuttall, met on January 9th and carefully considered our thrift work for the year. A statement of the plans outlined by the committee is enclosed herewith. It is urged that all superintendents make definite provision for thrift education in their schools along the lines suggested by the committee.

Brigham Robinson
Sues for Damages

As the result of an auto accident which Brigham Robinson declares David Burnett was responsible for, Robinson has started action to recover $900.55. The case has been filed in the district court.

Robinson claims to have spent $300.85 in repair of his car, and says that the value of the machine has depreciated $600 as the result of the collision.

State Board Is Mailing
Blanks to Business Men

The state board of equalization at Salt Lake is mailing blanks to business men of Weber county, in which the business men are to set forth facts in connection with their inventories. County Assessor Owen M. Sander says he was advised by the state board to notify the business men that they are to send a duplicate of this filled-in blank to him at the Weber county court house.

Severe Penalties For Liquor Law Offenders

Offenders of the liquor laws will be dealt with severely in the future in Ogden, according to a statement made by Judge D. R. Roberts of the city court this morning. Gus Bruce charged with drunkenness, entered a plea of not guilty, and after evidence had been produced against him, and after he admitted being arrested some time ago on a drunk charge, he was sentenced to spend 60 days in the city jail. Bruce started his sentence this morning. His sentence failed to carry the alternative sentence.

OLIVE STEVENSON ON FRIDAY

Funeral services for Miss Olive Stevenson, daughter of J. S. Stevenson, will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Kirkendall chapel with the Rev. John Edward Carver of the First Presbyterian church, officiating.

Miss Stevenson was born at Valparaiso, Neb., November 11, 1892, and received her early education in Evansville, Wyo. Later she came with her parents to Ogden where she was graduated from the Ogden high school with the class of 1911. For two years she had been stenographer in the general foreman's office of the Southern Pacific here.

She was a member of Queen Esther chapter, Order of Eastern Star.

Besides her father she leaves a sister, Mrs. Fred Ochs of Ogden, and a brother, Edward W. Stevenson of Evanston.

Afternoons Growing
More Warm In Ogden

The thermometer at the city hall stood at 5 degrees above zero at 3:30 o'clock this morning. Yesterday morning a like temperature was recorded. While the early morning temperature is almost the same from day to day, the temperature during the forenoon and early afternoon is getting warmer, according to the weather officials.

Fair tonight and Thursday; warmer northwest portion, is the prediction of the weather man.

Check Manipulator Is Brought Back to Ogden

Captain J. E. Christie, alleged to have been worthless checks in Ogden, and who was arrested at Los Angeles, was returned to Ogden last night by Officer McLeod. One of the alleged bad checks passed by Captain Christie was for $25. He will be arraigned before Judge D. R. Roberts tomorrow.

Attorney General May
Defend Socialists

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 11.—Decision to ask Attorney General Newton to serve as counsel for the assembly in the trial of the five Socialists suspended from office because of their alleged unfitness to serve, was reached today at a meeting of the judiciary committee which will serve as trial court.

In adopting a resolution to this effect, the judiciary committee authorized Mr. Newton to engage any additional counsel he might need.

SHIPPING BOARD VESSELS
WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Shipping board vessels earned about $100,000 each in 1919, according to estimates completed by board officials. Twelve hundred ships were operated during the year, but it was explained that net earnings would not exceed $120,000,000 as overhead and other charges must be deducted from this total.Singer's Midgets, Sensational Feature of
New Bill at Orpheum Theatre Tomorrow

Singer's Midgets, who, with their trained dogs, ponies and elephants, will offer one of the most spectacular features in vaudeville as a scintillating attraction on Thursday's new Pantages bill.

Singer's Midgets are coming to the Orpheum Thursday for a run through Saturday with special matinees daily. This troupe of the daintiest little beings that could be possibly imagined is one of the greatest attractions on the vaudeville stage.

It would be impossible to fittingly describe or do justice to the perfection of their work. Every gesture and movement tells, every detail of what might seem to be of small importance is carefully attended to.

They are singers, dancers, athletes, animal trainers, comedians, all noted for their versatility. Their attainments and accomplishments are not limited by their size and what the fully grown performer can do, they can do, and what they do is done with perfection and the distinguishing style of "class."

The little men are dressed and valetted to the latest edict and the most chic and fashionable Parisienne has nothing on these dainty little demoiselles for fashion, whose every garment down to the buckles on their tiny shoes are absolutely correct. Because of the crowds that will attend all performances no seats will be held later than 15 minutes after the show opens. During the engagement of Singer's Midgets the following special prices will be in effect: Nights, lower floor, 50c; balcony, 50c and 40c; gallery, 30c. Matinees, lower floor, 50c and 40c; balcony, 40c and 30c. Saturday matinee, night prices will prevail.

COMMISSIONERS AND PHYSICIANS WILL TALK HEALTH

Mayor Frank Francis, Commissioner J. Ray Ward and Commissioner Chris Flegare will be the guests of the Weber County Medical association at a banquet at the Weber club Thursday evening. Musical numbers and other features will be included in the entertainment program.

The health department of the city will be the chief topic of discussion. The department will be discussed by the members of the medical profession and steps to better the conditions suggested.

Rep. Randall Would Improve the Colorado

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Representative Randall of California, today introduced a bill proposing improvement of the Colorado river for the purposes of flood control, power development and irrigation. Under the measure work on the river, though done by the government, would be at private expense.

The bill proposes that eight dams be constructed within the Grand Canyon in Colorado and Arizona, creating reservoirs from which power might be derived.

The interior department, which would have charge of the project, would make contracts with private interests for sale of power and water and would issue bonds to pay the cost of construction work.

U. S. PLAYS LARGE ROLE
IN LATIN REPUBLICS

All Except Costa Rica to Be Represented at Second Pan-American Conference

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The larger role the United States has come to play in banking and commercial circles of Latin American countries as a result of the inability of European nations to continue pre-war relations is reflected by the program of the Second Pan-American Financial conference, to meet here January 19-24.

The first Pan-American Financial conference, held in May, 1915, was called as a result of the situation created by the war. Establishment of the enlarged relations between the United States and other American states on a permanent peace-time basis is the problem confronting the delegates to the second conference.

All the twenty-one American republics, except Costa Rica, will be represented by from three to five delegates. Eight ministers of finance, besides the secretary of treasury of the United States, will attend.

Seven General Subjects.

The seven general subjects on the program for open discussion are the credit situation of the world, international co-operation in commerce and finance, the work of the International trade-mark commission, international regulation of unfair competition, fiscal and currency reform as factors in national credit, and improvement of ocean and land transportation facilities.

Former Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and Governor Harding of the reserve board, for the United States, will speak on the credit situation. John

Federal Grand Jury Is to Probe Profiteering

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 14.—A federal grand jury was called today to meet here April 6 to investigate profiteering in food and clothing. The call was issued by Robert E. Lewis, United States district judge, on petition of District Attorney Tedrow.

TRYING TO SAVE CLIENTS.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 14.—Attorneys for Allen V. Grammer and Alton B. Cole today continued their efforts to prevent their clients from dying in the electric chair here next Friday for the murder of Grammer's mother-in-law, Mrs. Lulu G. Vogt of Elba, Neb.

Add famous waves we have known:

Barrel waves

Tidal waves

Draft waves

Cold wave

And coal wave (?)

The head-writer, who declared it great type in his paper—COAL PEACE DECLARED—has destroyed our faith in the sentiment after what we've seen of peace in this country.

One of our well-known and justly famous friends claims that it is extravagant for a man to be tall in these days of shortages.

We noticed a very appropriate sign in a barber shop window, the other day. It read—SHAVING WITHOUT PAIN OR WHISKERS REFUNDED.

CITY COURT AFTER EXCITING EVENTS

A drama in which two friends became "enemies" and then became friends again following a short session with the police was disclosed today in police court when L. E. Rollow, 1752 Pacific avenue, pleaded guilty to a charge of battery.

Rollow and John Crawford were engaged in a conversation, it was stated. This conversation took a turn for the worse and names were hurled at one another. Then there were blows, it is alleged. This was followed by a chase.

According to the testimony, Rollow was pursuing Crawford. Rollow slipped, it was explained, and as he slipped a spike which he had in his hand flew from his grasp and accidentally struck Crawford upon the head.

With his head wrapped in bandages, Crawford was in court this morning. When Rollow pleaded guilty to the charged preferred against him, Crawford made a statement to the court in which he said he was as much to blame as Rollow.

The judge suspended sentence.

Crawford and Rollow shook hands with smiles upon their faces.

City Takes Steps To Obtain Clean Walks

Steps to clean the sidewalks of ice and other materials in the city have been ordered taken by the city commission. Action in Salt Lake has been taken by the police department, but citizens of Ogden are asked to see that the sidewalks are cleaned of ice in order that accidents may be avoided. If steps are not taken immediately by the citizens, the city will take steps and punish all guilty parties.

Hyde To Make Mental
Tests at City Hall

Mrs. May Noall, supervisor of the special classification of school children, will attend the mental clinic at the city hall tomorrow in the interest of the schools of Ogden. The clinic will be held by Dr. Hyde of the state mental hospital and mental cases will be examined.

It is expected that scores of people will attend the clinic. Dr. Hyde will make all examinations free and will advise all on their condition and how to remedy trouble, if any should be found. Dr. Hyde will be in Ogden Thursday and Friday.

Again Occurs in Nevada

Although Nevada is reported to have fewer beaver than any other western state, conditions are such that an open season will probably occur in Nevada during 1920 on these animals.

It is stated that a closed season was imposed by the state legislature some time ago. The closed season was until 1920, and indications are that the animals will be practically exterminated unless the state game warden takes measures to again enforce a closed season.

Officers Elected For the Crittenton Home

Officers who will have charge of the Crittenton home for the coming year are: Mrs. Emma J. Hinckley, president; Mrs. May, vice president; Joseph Chee, second vice president; Eva Erb, treasurer, and Mrs. Thomas Bradley, secretary.

Dr. M. M. Burns is the new member on the board of directors. W. W. Fleetwood, formerly of Ogden but at present a Salt Lake resident, is one whose name is included among the directors.

Wilhelm now speaks through Caranza's lips—"A mere scrap of paper, but it is not green-backed, so why should I pay any attention to it?"
